AT THE TABERNACLE.

Friday night the Tabernacle was turned over to students of the Paris High School. Evangelist Ham preached a special sermon. The building had been decorated by a committee under the direction of Miss Ellen Henry. Songs and cheers were given under the direction of Prof. Proctor, while the High School band, under the leadership of Prof. Prentice Lancaster, rendered a selection of instrumental music.

The way to the Tabernacle is now pointed out by a big electric cross over the main entrance.

Saturday night a large crowd gathered in front of the Court House, from where, after singing of hymns, they marched to the Tabernacle, headed by the Paris High School Band. At the Tabernacle appropriate services were held.

Sunday morning Evangelist Ham addressed a big audience, taking as subject, "Separation." In the afternoon he spoke to an audience of men only on "Tests of Manhood." At the evening service the house was filled to overflowing, with a crowd that heard the Evangelist preach on the subject of "The Judgment."

On account of yesterday being County Court Day, no meetings were held.

Special nights will be set aside for the fraternal organizations, which have been invited to attend in a body.

In order to furnish protection for the audience against inclement weather, the Tabernacle has been lined with heavy building paper, insuring comfort and warmth.

Interest in the meetings continues to grow and the big building can hardly hold the crowds that attend. The business men of Millersburg will be asked to close their stores from 3 p. m. to 4 p. m. on Wednesday afternoon. The services will be conducted at 3 p. m. in the Methodist Church. Evangelist Ham will preach. Chorister Ramsey will sing and Mr. Matthews play.

The record of attendance up to date show the total of 48,200, with collections totaling $618.37. And the end is not yet.

Crowds of men and women from all over the county have been at tending the services and the capacity of the Tabernacle has been sorely taxed.

An open field near the site has been secured for the accommodation of county visitors and abundant room will be provided for all kinds of vehicles.

So many inquiries have been made as to when the Ham-Ramsey meetings would close that it was announced from the rostrum during the Sunday afternoon meeting that the evangelists would remain until about January 1, or until they had "succeeded in driving the devil from Paris." They stated in effect that they did not intend to be driven away by either bad weather or unfair criticisms; that they had a ton of coal stored away, and the Tabernacle had been made perfectly comfortable and secure against any possible sudden changes of weather; that Paris people would see a more aggressive plan of campaign especially suited to local conditions, and that it would not stop until they had driven the devil and all his associates far beyond the confines of Bourbon County.

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED

At a meeting of representatives of the Central Kentucky High Schools held in Lexington, Saturday, an organization for the purpose of regulating, developing and purifying high school athletics in Central Kentucky towns was perfected with the following officers: Prof. W. O. Hopper, of Mt. Sterling, president; Prof. R. I. Cord, of Cynthiana, vice-president; Prof. M. E. Ligon, Lexington, secretary-treasurer.

The meeting was held in the Morton High School, at 9:30 Saturday morning, and was attended by representatives from Lexington, Paris, Mt. Sterling, Maysville, Cynthiana and Frankfort. Paris was represented by Prof. T. A. Hendricks, Superintendent of the Paris Public High Schools.

The feature of the association will be that all basketball, baseball and football schedules will be arranged and published before the season starts. All games will be played under uniform contracts and the by-laws of the association.

Before the meeting adjourned it was decided to have representatives of all schools meet at Cynthiana at the end of the basketball season and contest there for the State High School Championship.

EASTERN STAR GUESTS.

At a recent meeting of the local Chapter of Eastern Star, Mrs. Sadie M. Turgeley, of Owensboro, Worthly Grand Matron, and Mrs. Julia Vinzner, of Lexington, Associate Grand Conductress, were honored guests. During the hours dainty refreshments were served. Other guests of the Chapter were: Mrs. Williamson, Mrs. Norfleet and Mr. Vinzner, of Lexington, and Miss Emma Smith and Mr. Newton Smith, of Lexington.

"WETS" TO CONTEST.

Attorneys John Williams and Denis Dundon, representing the saloonists and liquor men of Paris, on Saturday night filed in the County Court notice of contest of the local option election held in this city and county on Monday, September 28th. The notice of contest is published in full in this issue of the Bourbon News.

COUNTY CHAIRMAN SELECTED.

State Chairman Thomas S. Rhea has selected Mr. William G. McClintock, of Paris, to fill the important position of Democratic Chairman of Bourbon County during the coming election, and he will shortly select an active campaign committee with representation from every precinct of the county, and begin an energetic campaign in behalf of the Democratic ticket this fall.

It must be remembered that a vote against the Democratic nominees is a repudiation of the brilliant administration of President Woodrow Wilson. A number of United States Senators are to be chosen in several States and Kentucky has the privilege of selecting two. Upon these selections may depend the success or failure of the Democratic administration at Washington, hence every Democrat in the State is charged with a greater responsibility than ever before.

We feel sure that the Democrats of Kentucky, and of Bourbon County, will acquit themselves like men by giving the Democratic candidates the greatest majority ever received, and it is the purpose of Chairman McClintock, to wage an intelligent thorough and vigorous campaign in order that Bourbon County may do its full share in securing the desired result in the State.

FRANKLIN COURT REVERSED.

The judgment of the Franklin Circuit Court in the case of H. M. Bosworth vs. George Batterton, County Attorney of Bourbon County, was reversed by the Court of Appeals last Tuesday.

Mr. Batterton, as County Attorney of Bourbon County, prosecuted the case of the Sheriff of Bourbon County against Laura Belle Judy's administrator to recover inheritance tax on the State. The Commonwealth recovered a judgment of $28.75. Batterton filed suit in the Franklin Circuit Court against Auditor Bosworth to obtain a mandamus requiring him to issue a warrant in favor of Batterton for $4.31, being fifteen per cent. of the amount of tax collected. The lower court awarded the mandamus. The Appellate Court says the question to be decided in the case is whether a County Attorney is entitled to 15 per cent. of the tax. The Court held that it is part of the County Attorney's duty to prosecute these cases.

JURY DISAGREES.

In Judge McMillan's Court, Saturday, the jury in the case of the Commonwealth of Kentucky vs. Wm. M. Kenney, of the Hutchison neighborhood, was unable to agree upon a verdict, and was ordered discharged.

The action was based upon an affidavit made by Mrs. Ida Kenney Risque, of Midway, a daughter of Mr. Kenney, alleging that he was no longer able to manage his own affairs, and asking the court to appoint a trustee to manage and care for his estate. The testimony showed that Mr. Kenney has an estate valued at about $20,000 and the jury, after hearing the evidence as to the mental condition of Mr. Kenney was unable to arrive at a definite conclusion, and was discharged.

Mr. Kenney, who is about eighty years of age, has been in failing health for a number of years. He has three daughters, Mrs. Ida Kenney Risque, of Midway; Mrs. Erdman, of Lexington; and Mrs. Thomas, who makes her home with him, and two sons, Ben. Kenney and "B." Kenney.

PARIS BOY TO GO TO THE PHILIPPINES.

Emerson Galloway, a graduate of the Paris High School, and a senior in the College of Agriculture at State University, has received from Mr. Lester H. Dewey, United States Botanist, in charge of fiber investigation, an appointment as Inspector of Fibers in the Philippine Islands. The salary is from $1,600 to $2,000 a year. Mr. Galloway will sail from Manila on the steamer "Mangolia" on October 24th.

After the first six months, during which time he will be engaged in becoming acquainted with his duties, Mr. Galloway will take up the work of inspecting the hemp and other fibers that are shipped from the island, and will supervise the baling of the product.

For several years Mr. Galloway has been engaged in working in hemp in this county, and has come to be recognized as an authority.

He will make a visit here soon to arrange for his trip to his faraway home.

TOBACCO STICKS.

Just received, a car load of sawed oak tobacco sticks. Both phones. BOURBON LUMBER COMPANY.

STATE PULVER.

The State Pulver doing free work for farmers for fertilizing purposes is now at Miss Lillian Headley's farm near Mt. Horeb Church, in Fayette County. The route lies from there through Bourbon, Nicholas and Mason counties. Parties desiring the use of this machine should address R. A. E. Leslie, Lexington, Ky., at once for full details.

ATTENTION, DEMOCRATS.

Democrats, don't fail to register To-day, Oct. 6th, if you fail to register on to-day you will be barred from voting in any election for 12 months. Register.

STREET RESURFACING COMPLETED.

That the contractors in charge of the resurfacing of Main Street have made an excellent job and have also made unusually good time in finishing, considering the many delays to which they were subjected in the start, is the universal verdict of the people of Paris.

The street was practically finished Saturday night, when the big steam roller put the concluding touches on the bitulithic near the store of Bramlette & Tarr, Third Street, between Pleasant and Main, was also resurfaced, the expense being divided between the merchants and business men of that vicinity and the city of Paris.

The new street was thoroughly tested out Sunday by scores of automobiles and pronounced "perfectly splendid" by all. The tendency now will be to exceed the speed limit. The temptation to "burn the wind" on the new surface will be very hard to resist, and the police will have plenty to do in warning and restraining the ambitious speeders.

The working force was busy yesterday in cleaning off the surface of the new street for the inspection of the city officials. The machinery and material was shipped last night to Parrogo, Ark., where the firm has a big contract of the same kind of paving to put in.

Superintendent Barnett speaks in the highest terms of praise of the Paris people and the consideration shown him and his work during his stay here.

DEATHS.

YARNALL.

—Nora May Yarnall, six-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Yarnall, died at the home of its parents, near Jacksonville, Thursday morning. The body was interred in the Jacksonville cemetery Friday morning.

DENNIS.

—Following a long illness of cancer of the bladder, Mr. L. Q. Dennis, one of the best-known residents of North Middletown, died at his home in that city, Wednesday morning. He leaves a widow, formerly Mrs. Mary Parris, sister of Mr. H. C. Peter, postmaster of North Middletown. He leaves three children by his first wife, Southa Dennis, of Germantown; Clay Daniels, of Maysville, and Mrs. Milliken Kincaid, of Florida, who was unable to be present. Funeral services were held at the grave in the North Middletown cemetery, conducted by Eld. John Christopherson.

STUART.

—Mrs. Georgia Williams Stuart, widow of John Stuart, died at the family home on Pleasant Street, Friday morning, at one o'clock, following an illness of several years from rheumatism.

Mrs. Stuart was the daughter of Major George W. Williams, one of the most prominent of the early residents of Paris, both in the political, business and religious life of the community. He and his excellent wife reared a large family of children and the family was one of the most cultured and well-known in the Blue Grass section. Only three daughters of the large family now remain, Mrs. Thos. Henry Clay, Miss Winifred Williams and Miss Lou K. Williams. The home where Mrs. Stuart and the Misses Williams lived together is one of the most popular homes in Paris, on account of the cheerfulness and hospitality of the invalid sisters. Mrs. Stuart had been confined to her invalid chair for a long time, but was in her usual health until last Friday evening, when she became suddenly ill, and her illness baffled the skill of physicians and loving care. She is survived by an only son, Mr. George W. Stuart, of this city, and the sisters previously mentioned. She was the sister of the late Mr. Frank Williams, of Lexington, and an aunt of General Roger Williams, Lexington.

Mrs. Stuart was a devoted member of the Christian Church, and before her illness was an active member of the C. W. B. M., the Paris Literary Club, and of the W. C. T. U.

The funeral was conducted by Rev. W. E. Ellis at the residence on Pleasant street, Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Burial took place in the Paris cemetery.

The active pall-bearers were Gen. Roger D. Williams, John Prall, Alfred Clay, George W. Clay, T. H. Clay, Jr., Duncan Bell, William Taylor, Lewis Taylor, all nephews of Mrs. Stuart. The honorary pall-bearers were Geo. R. Bell, T. H. Clay, Sr., Col. E. F. Clay, Judge R. L. Stout, W. L. Yerkes, Buckner Woodford, J. T. Hinton, J. W. Davis.

EARLY WAR NEWS.

SURRENDER OF ANTWERP DEMANDED.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The Germans demanded the surrender of Antwerp. The demand has been refused.

A dispatch to the Evening News from Antwerp says that the German attack on Antwerp continued throughout last night with little interruption. The Belgian forts replied so effectively, it is reported, that the Germans several times were compelled to change the position of their batteries.

AUSTRIA PAYS ITALY ONE MILLION INDEMNITY.

ROME, October 2.—Officially deploring the sinking of Italian ships by Austrian mines in the Adriatic, the Austrian Government has agreed to an immediate payment of an indemnity of $1,000,000 to the families of the 17 victims of the disaster. This incident is now officially closed, it is announced.

Austria's action on Italy's energetic protest against the mining of the Adriatic has apparently removed what seemed to be a casus belli on the part of Italy. The sinking of two Italian fishing boats and the reported sinking of an Italian torpedo boat by Austrian mines had greatly inflamed public opinion.

Italy, it is announced, will reclaim its former provinces and reacquire the coasts colonized and Italianized by Venice, and will thus safeguard its own national rights upon the Adriatic.

QUESTION OF INTERNATIONAL LAW.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—A grave question of international law was raised in Washington Thursday. It concerns the shipment yesterday of the hydroaeroplane, America, and two sister craft to England to be used for military purposes.

A protest is expected to be made by Germany. If the machines are classed as munitions of war, the aeroplanes would merely be subject to seizure as contraband, but if classed as warships, the United States might be held to be responsible for allowing their departure from a neutral port.

An understanding about the shipment of foodstuffs and raw material to neutral European countries may soon be reached between the United States and Great Britain. Conferences are being held in Washington and London and in a few days an agreement is expected by which products shipped between the United States and foreign countries, both neutral and belligerent, may be transported without interference from British and French warships.

There are many phases of this subject requiring separate examination and treatment, and the State Department regards each one disposed of as a step toward a final comprehensive understanding that will prevent any friction arising during the continuance of the European war.

HINDU TROOPS IN FRANCE.

PARIS, Oct. 2.—Seventy thousand Hindu troops have re-enforced the allied army and are taking part in the decisive phase of the great battle of the Aisne. Although these troops arrived on Tuesday, it was not until today that the censor would allow the fact to be made known.

The 70,000 Hindu soldiers who were brought into the war zone through the port of Marseilles, comprise the flower of the forces of the British Empire's great colonial possession.

The French and British are keeping up vigorous offensive movements on both flanks, the arrival of fresh troops enabling them to relieve some of the men who had been under fire most of the time since the engagement began on September 12.

Although the German soldiers are making counter attacks along the line, the extreme exhaustion of the invaders is shown by lack of the vigor which characterized their earlier offensive movements.

It is reported that Gen. von Kluck has been forced to order the retirement of a heavy section of his army because of the physical inability of the soldiers to meet the violent assaults of the fresher soldiers of the allied army.

GERMANS ASSEMBLING ON RUSSIAN BORDER.

ROME, (via Paris, Oct. 2).—According to dispatches reaching here all Bohemian and Moravian railroads are congested with German troops and war material which is being transported to the Russian border. Germany is making a supreme effort to face the Russian advance and all civilian transport has been forbidden. Vienna dispatches say the Austrian staff is entirely dependent upon that of Germany, which has assumed supreme command in the campaign against Russia.

STARVATION THREATENS BRUSSELS.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Seven hundred thousand persons in Brussels are facing starvation, according to Hugh Gibson, the Secretary of the American Embassy there, who is now in this city.

The supply of flour in the Belgian capital will be exhausted to-day and other staples are virtually all consumed. The latest apportionment of flour to the citizens of Brussels will be given out this afternoon.

Efforts to get food in from Antwerp have failed. Inasmuch as Brussels is in charge of the Germans, it is in effect German territory. Neutral nations could not undertake to supply food to Brussels, even if transportation facilities were not practically cut off because of military operations.

CONFIDENT OF PEACE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Unofficial reports reaching the Administration from Constitutionalists sources here conveyed further assurances that permanent peace soon would be restored in Mexico through the designation of Fernando Iglesias Calderon as Provisional President pending an election.

No official word from Mexico City concerning the convention which was called to meet Thursday to promulgate plans for a general election, or from the peace conference between Carranza and Villa representatives at Zacatecas and Aguascalientes, was received by the State Department Thursday.

Both President Wilson and Secretary Bryan said, however, the outlook for a peaceful settlement of the differences between the factions in Mexico was "very hopeful." Other officials said they confidently expected the peace conference to be successful.

IMPORTANCE OF
HEALTHY KIDNEYSParis Readers Should Learn to Keep the Kidneys Well.

The kidneys have a big work to do. All the blood in the body is coursing through the kidneys constantly to be fed of poisonous matter. It is a heavy enough task when the kidneys are well, but a cold, chill fever or some thoughtless exposure is likely to irritate, inflame and congest the kidneys and interrupt the purifying work.

Then the aching frequently begins and is often accompanied by some irregularity of the urine—too frequent passages sediment or retention. Thousands testify to the wonderful merit of Doan's Pills, a remedy for the kidneys only, that has been used in kidney troubles 50 years: You will make no mistake in following this Paris citizen's advice:

Mrs. Ida Huffman, 115 Main Street, Paris, Ky., says: "We think Doan's Pills are just fine. We willingly confirm the statement we gave some years ago recommending them. I suffered from pains across the small of my back. Seeing Doan's Pills advertised I got a supply at Wilson's Drug Store and gave them a trial. I was very much pleased with the results."

Warsaw, Ill., Erects Monument to Commemorate Ft. Edwards.

Was the Farthest Western Outpost During the Second War With Great Britain—Commands
View of Mississippi.

Warsaw, Illinois.—Historic days of a century ago have been honored at Warsaw, Illinois, in the erection there of a monument in commemoration of Fort Edwards, the farthest western outpost during the second war with Great Britain. In 1814 Zachary Taylor, then a major in the United States army, selected the high bluffs overlooking the Mississippi river at Warsaw as the most advantageous point available for a frontier stockade, commanding as they did a sweeping view for miles to north and west. Today the point where the monument stands is said to afford the most beautiful river view along the Mississippi. On September 29 and 30 and October 1 the monument will be dedicated by the state of Illinois in connection with a centennial jubilee, and the principal speakers at that time will be Governor Edward F. Dunne and the representatives of the state in congress.

For ten years after its erection Fort Edwards was the headquarters of United States troops. It was of particular value to the government in dealing with the Indians, among whom English agents continually were endeavoring to create trouble. At that time the protection of settlers in that region was not concerning the government in that they had not begun to arrive. Not long after the fort was built, though, people working toward the West began to locate in the neighborhood of Fort Edwards, and for years it housed many families who took advantage of its shelter until they were able to secure locations of their own.

In Zachary Taylor's time the region was heavily wooded. Directly across the Mississippi is the boundary line between Iowa and Missouri. At that time all of Iowa was in the Sac and Fox Indian reservation, and each spring, after the ice went out, the Indians came down the Des Moines river, which empties into the Mississippi across from Warsaw, and there met traders from St. Louis. That in itself was one reason for Zachary Taylor's selection of the Illinois bluffs at Warsaw as a point of vantage for Fort Edwards.

Gradually civilization changed the nature of the country, but the years have not lessened the grandeur of its river scenes. Progress has marked the points where the red men met the traders from the south. Today from Fort Edwards point the great Keokuk power dam may be seen one mile to the north as a monument to the advance of a once desolate region.

Fort Edwards was named after the first governor of Illinois, Ninian W. Edwards. Toward the erection of the monument in its memory the state of Illinois appropriated $2,500.

The old stockade did not achieve any particular notoriety as a scene of battle. But it was a landmark in the civilization of the great Mississippi valley, and as such deserves the honor that Illinois now pays it.

Among other things Warsaw is noted historically as the boyhood home of John Hay, and the house where his father and mother lived and died still stands, within two blocks of Fort Edwards point.

The new monument is built of Barre granite, and is fifty feet in height. On the sides will be placed bronze tablets of Zachary Taylor, the fort, and of Governor Edwards.

THE BOURBON BAR
PASSES RESOLUTIONS

In Respect to the Memory of Clifton Arnsperger.

At a meeting of the Bourbon Bar Association held at the Court House on Thursday morning, out of respect to the memory of Clifton Arnsperger, Hon. E. M. Dickson, Judge Denis Dundon and Judge Harmon Stitt were appointed a Committee to draft resolutions. At a subsequent meeting, Judge Stitt, on behalf of the Committee, presented the following, which were unanimously adopted: PREAMBLE AND RESOLUTIONS. Clifton Arnsperger was admitted to the Bourbon Bar on October 18, 1886.

In 1892 he was elected County Attorney and served eight years with great credit to himself and eminent satisfaction to that portion of the public that believes in the impartial enforcement of law and order.

For nearly thirty years he was in active practice. In relation to his clients he was faithful, painstaking, indefatigable, true and honest. In his daily intercourse with his fellow attorneys he was courteous, kindly, sincere in his agreements and insistent upon the ethics of the profession.

He was not a great lawyer, but he accomplished the purpose of his employment by perseverance and patience.

He was not an orator, but he possessed the rare faculty of expressing his thoughts in terse, well chosen words, with an earnestness that bore the impress of sincerity.

He was a man of affairs. He took interest in all public movements, and he gave financial backing to public enterprises. He contributed largely to movements that undertook public betterment. He devoted time, labor and money to the Church, the Y. M. C. A. and missions; and as a member of the Board of Education, the good he accomplished is known and appreciated by his associates.

He had faith in Paris, as shown by his investments in realty, in her banks, her Building Association, her Opera House, her Fair and Telephone Companies, and many other utilities for the common weal.

On all moral questions at issue it was never necessary to inquire where he stood. Without question of material gain or loss; unheeding social advancement or decline, he stood for what in his estimation was for the betterment of mankind.

Therefore, be it Resolved:
That in the death of Clifton Arnsperger the Bourbon Bar has lost an earnest, conscientious, upright member, the community a worthy citizen and his family a faithful husband and loving father.

RESOLVED, That these resolutions be spread at length upon the Circuit Court records, and that an attested copy be presented to the family.

RESOLVED, That the Circuit Court be requested to adjourn for one day during the November term, out of respect to his memory.

E. M. DICKSON,
DENIS DUNDON,
HARMON STITT.

GREAT EXCITEMENT.
(From Barbourville Advocate, whose Editor is some writer.)

Down at John Smith's not long ago just as the sunbeams of lovely day were kissing the hilltops of the eastern horizon, that a terrible commotion began, at the same time the sweet sunset was darkened by a great black cloud. It came nearer and nearer as it made its way across the sky. The stars that had just begun to twinkle in their places behind their faces behind this great black cloud from which the orb of lightning hissed in forked streaks and loud peals of thunder broke the rest of both man and beast. John retired to his couch but sleep had left him as well as his wife and children and they tried to settle the matter among themselves, and wondered what it was all about. The house cat was on the alert, she knew there was trouble somewhere and old Tigie, who had always watched while his master slept, howled a mournful howl, the cows came in from the pasture and kept up a constant bawl, the horse began to neigh, the mules began to bray and not an eye closed for sleep or rest all night. The next morning his wife began anew to find out the trouble and ascertained that John's subscription to the Mountain Advocate had expired. He came to town, renewed his subscription and got a copy of all the missing numbers since his paper had been stopped, and when he arrived home there was a general rejoicing with both man and beast, and now everything about John's place is sunshine and gladness. Try it yourself.

WHY MEATS ARE HIGH
(Washington Post.)

"It is not to be wondered at that cattle are selling for $11 a hundredweight in Chicago," said E. F. Hudson, a stockman of Montana, at the Raleigh. "I shall be surprised if the price doesn't go a great deal higher. There probably is good reason for the consumer to blame the packer for high prices of beef, and the middleman doubtless deserves a large part of the blame, while the dealer unquestionably shares the responsibility. All contribute to the increased price of meats. But back of all is the fact that the cattle supply of the country has been steadily decreasing. There is no more room for cattle east of the Rockies. This year has been so dry that farmers are having to bring in their cattle from the range much earlier than usual. All the pasturage is dry.

"While this is a condition that is not favorable, it does not work so great a hardship as it would if the hay and alfalfa crops were poor. Nature even up matters. This season hay and alfalfa have been particularly favored. Nearly every farmer has plenty of forage to last through the winter. Many of them are making a point of getting enough to last through two years.

MATRIMONIAL.

—The marriage of Miss Mary W.
Austin, of near Paris, and Mr. Frank H. Ellis, of Gainesville, Ga., was quietly celebrated at the home of the bride's father, Mr. A. J. Austin, on the Lexington pike, near this city,
last Thursday evening, Elder W. E.
Ellis, of the Paris Christian Church, performing the ceremony.

The bride, who has for several years occupied the position of Dean of the Normal Department of the Columbia, Miss., Female College is an attractive and accomplished young woman of marked intellectual attainments. The groom is a well-known business man who is connected with a large book concern.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis left over the L. & N. for their new home in Gainesville, Ga., followed by the congratulations and good wishes of a host of friends.

THEATRICAL.

At Columbia, Wednesday, October 7.

The Million Dollar Mystery—Episode No. 13—The Secret Agent From Russia—Exasperated at the failures,
the Star Chamber of the "Black Hundred" in Russia sends a secret agent from that country. His arrogance and boastfulness of the success of his plans to secure Florence, rile Braine and Olga. The secret agent goes about his plans. Olga calls on Florence and during Florence's absence sees a letter that makes her immediately lay plans herself. The secret agent's scheme apparently works well—he rushes into the meeting of the "Black Hundred" loudly proclaiming that he has Florence—
he turns to tear the wrap from her head and finds, not Florence, but Olga. $10,000.00 in cash will be given for the best 100 word solution of this mystery. See the pictures here.

Another picture will be shown in connection with the above, entitled, "Fairlight," a two part picture of sentiment, in which a man, who is making his millions every year and grinding down every one he comes in contact with, has a fierce strike on his hands. His wife knows that one of his striking workers is waiting to shoot him, she detains him with stories of her youth, courting and married life. These include some very pretty scenes and result not only in saving the man from being shot, but in giving him a change of heart.

THE BATTLE OF SEXES.

The "Battle of the Sexes" will be shown at the Columbia, Friday, October 9th. The "Battle of the Sexes" which is wonderfully expounded in this film, is the greatest conflict of modern society. It is the war of opinion over the question of the single standard of moral responsibility for men and women. This powerful and sympathetic photodrama, the utter degradation of any theory justifying the husband in conduct contrary to the marriage vow. The "Battle of the Sexes" is a drama of real New York life among people of wealth and refinement. All the action transpires in an apartment house of the most expensive sort, the gowns of the women are an added attraction worth of mention.

special orchestra.

Apart from the fun in "The Beauty Shop" we are promised a feast of song and deluge of dancing. The song numbers include no less than eighteen selections; among the most popular are "Beauty Shop," "I Want

Along, Little Maid, Come Along,"
"Saturday Afternoon on Broadway,"
"Love's Hesitation," "When the Creditor Comes to Call," "I Love All the

SOME SPRINTING.

His ability as a sprinter caused Mr. W. H. Harris, L. N. Agent, to participate in the chase and arrest of Henry Sesser, an Alabama negro. While under arrest on a charge of breaking into the home of Ben Wheat, colored, in Claysville, and stealing a suit of clothes, a hat and a pair of shoes, Sesser broke away from the arresting officer at the corner of Second and Main, and sped out Second street into Pleasant, followed by the bullets from the policeman's revolver. The bullets sped on, so did the negro, until Mr. Harris gave chase and overhauled him. Sesser was taken to jail.

REGISTRATION TO-DAY.

Registration at the polling places in the six precincts of Paris will be conducted to-day from 6:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m. All voters of the city who expect to participate in the November election and the primary election next August must register to-day. A supplemental registration will be held at the Court House on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, October 26, 27 and 28, for any voters who were unable to participate in the regular registration to-day, but only absence from the city and illness of the voter or any member of his family will be accepted as a legitimate excuse. Only city voters are required to register. Women may register to-day and vote in the November election on members of the Board of Education.

OCTOBER COURT DAY.

There was a good crowd in the city yesterday, and merchants report business fairly good, but collections slow. About 300 cattle and 400 sheep on the market, with prices about stationary.

M. J. Murphy & Co. report the following sales:

Caywood & McClintock to Albert Thomas eleven 900-lb. cattle at 74c; W. H. Whaley to John and Henry Clay, forty-five 600-lb. cattle at 7c; Connell Bros. to John Welch, eight 700-lb. cattle at 74c; Russell Brown to W. H. Whaley, 65 sheep, at $5; Chas. H. Meng to J. S. Shawhan, ten 700-lb. cattle at 7c; Watson sold twenty-one 500-lb. cattle at $35 per head; Vaughn sold 25 sheep to Jeff Arthur at $7.50; Murphy & Co. sold 91 sheep to A. Watson at $7.25.

The sale of Jersey cattle at Murphy & Co.'s barns, consigned by Mr. Miller Ward, brought out a large attendance, and the bidding was spirited. Twenty-two head brought a total of $1,254.50. The purchasers were mostly local men. The cattle brought from $36 to $93 per head.

Those assisting in entertaining were Mrs. Frank Farmer, of Harrison, Tenn., Howard Hamilton and Edith Wright.

AUTO DESTROYED BY FIRE.

The handsome six-cylinder Howard automobile belonging to Mr. Sidney G. Clay was destroyed by fire Sunday night caused by "back firing."

Mr. Clay had just returned from Lexington, about nine o'clock in his machine and had run it under the prote cochere at his home and after securing his overcoat from the house started to crank the machine preparatory to returning to the garage when it "backfired" and the gasoline taking fire, caused an explosion which enveloped the machine in flames. Mr. Clay realizing that it was beyond his power unaided to save the machine, called for help, and two farm hands came to his assistance with fire extinguishers. Their efforts were unavailing and the fire soon destroyed the machine beyond redemption. Only the steel and iron frame work of the auto remains.

The auto cost Mr. Clay $2,600, and was insured for $2,200 in the Old Colony Insurance Co., of Boston, Mass., represented by Mr. Rudolph Davis.

PAYS TO WATCH THE PENNIES

Real Explanation of Why Some Men Are Wealthy, and Others Are Directly the Reverse.

It is a habit that a rich man assumes to pick up a penny whenever or wherever they can conveniently, and sometimes they will go out of their way to do so. I remember when I was a small boy, that was nearly fifty years ago, a very wealthy man in our city came driving along toward a high overhead railroad bridge. I was playing with some companions of mine on the bridge.

I cannot exactly remember why it was done, but I fished a penny out of my pocket and was showing it to my boy companions when it slipped through my fingers and dropped to the pavement below. The wealthy old man drove up, and to all appearances he was in deep thought with his head buried upon his chest.

He saw my penny, however, deliberately stopped his horse, getting out of his carriage, picked up that penny, pocketed it, and returning to his wagon drove off as if nothing had ever happened.

There was a sad heart pulsing over his head, I can tell you, for a penny in those days was as big as a dime is to a boy today, and I felt the loss of it keenly. That man was a multi-millionaire, and by just such little things as that was how he was constantly accumulating more all of the time.

The average boy of today does not take advantage of his opportunities to make and to save. There seem to be too many forms of temptation thrown in his way to rid him of his extra dimes and nickels, when if they were saved and deposited in some savings institution a startling result would be achieved in a few years.—Portland Express and Advertiser.

DRAMA FOUND IN EVERYTHING

Philosophical Tribute to the Morbidly Curious, Who Are Subject to Much Criticism.

Dickens noted in his day—as I in mine—how casual people in the street would flatten their noses against the window of a chemist's shop in order to catch a glimpse of some little surgical repair which the victim of a trivial accident might be undergoing in the back parlor.

"Morbid curiosity," says the superior person, who may none the less have taken his own measures to become acquainted with each gory detail. The superior person is notoriously short sighted and may even be said to wear blinkers; the nose flattener is not, perhaps, articulate, and can give no philosophical description of the promptings which move them, but they are swayed, however, unconsciously, by the excitement of their dramatic sense.

They are doing reverence, though ignorant, to the foundation truth that there is drama in everything and even in nothing.—Percy Clare, in London Chronicle.

The Perpetual Blunderer.

Ever meet the affable gentleman who smilingly confesses that he has made a mistake in some matter or other and is richly and profoundly regretful—won't you forgive him—and bear the penalty of his blunder yourself, like a jolly fellow? Fine, gentlemanly, valuable acquaintance, isn't he—this fellow with the infinite capacity for blundering and the generous capacity to apologize and leave you to hold the bag, puzzled to know just why you grasped hold of the thing? Afterward you regret meeting him and try to transfer your business elsewhere, don't you? Of course, all of us make mistakes in judgment and action—and most of us are quite ready to condone the occasional lapse from accuracy—but what shall we do with the fellow whose blunders average 90 per cent or more? Where is his place in the business system of the world? Ought he not, as a mark of appreciation, be given a job driving a garbage wagon?

Woodchuck "Bile 'Em Fust."

Horace Kephart once asked old Uncle Bob Flowers, one of his neighbors in the Smokies: "Did you ever eat a woodchuck?"

"Reckon I don't know what them is."

"Ground-hog."

"O, la! dozens of 'em. The red ones hain't good, but the gray ones! Man, they'd jest make yer mouth water!"

"How do you cook them?"

"Cut the little red kernels out from under their forelegs; then bile 'em fust—all the strong is left in the water—then pepper 'em and sage 'em, and put 'em in a pan and bake 'em to a nice rich brown, and—then I don't want nobody there but me!"—Buffalo News.

Beauty of Character.

There is a sweetness of the child, and a sweetness of the old. The sweetness of the child is largely independent of his personality. It is in his ways and in his looks, and the same thing is true, though not quite so much of the young woman. But when sweetness comes at sixty it is the expression of the very nature of the soul. J. M. Barrie somewhere, we believe, has said that no woman is really beautiful until she is fifty-three. The beauty that is worth most is the beauty that is connected with the character itself.—Selected.

"The Strongest Corsets Made"

Rengo Belt Reducing Corsets

have won remarkable favor among stout and medium women because of their great strength—they are the strongest corsets made.

No matter how clever the design in producing perfect style and correct lines for an over-stout figure, the whole value of such a corset is immediately lost if it lacks the strength to hold its original shape.

Rengo Belt corsets are all that can be desired in style (determine that for yourself by examination), and they possess more of lasting shapeliness than can be purchased in any other corset.

The new models are now ready. You will find them boned throughout with double watch-spring steels, guaranteed not to rust.

Bell Telephone Bulletins

5—THE HUMAN ELEMENT

The telephone has become so essential and indispensable in business and home life and is regarded so much as a matter of course, that many telephone users overlook the human side of telephone operating and consider the operators as merely part of a machine. Unfortunately they also have the impression that the telephone company, because it is a corporation, regards its operators in this same light.

A visit to our exchange will be of benefit to any subscriber who holds these views. Our operators are an essential feature of our business. Their duties are important and upon their ability largely depends our success. The young women who hold these positions are especially trained to perform the duties of telephone operators. In the first place, they are carefully selected. Not every applicant is accepted. There are certain mental and physical attributes that are necessary. The applicant must possess a pleasant, well-modulated voice, her eyesight and hearing must be good, and she must be even-tempered and of a patient disposition. She is trained to control her natural temper even under the most trying conditions. The importance of giving prompt and accurate service is impressed upon her from the first day she enters the training school.

This important feature of the business has our constant attention. We recognize the human element, not only in our operators, but in the great army of telephone users. If you could see our operators at work and observe their life in the exchange you'd understand better this feature of the telephone business.

THE ISSUE IN KENTUCKY.

In his opening speech at Somerset, Governor Beckham said:

"The chief issue in this campaign is whether or not the people of Kentucky endorse the work and policies of President Wilson's administration and whether they wish to add or to obstruct its further service and progress. In the election of the two United States Senators, one for the short term, and the other for the long term, and in the election of Representatives in the Lower House of Congress, on November 3rd, you are given the opportunity of expressing your approval or disapproval of that administration, and also of determining whether Kentucky's votes in the two Houses of Congress shall uphold and assist the President during the remainder of his term, or shall be used to oppose and embarrass him in all of his important undertakings. If you approve and endorse his administration and desire to give your assistance to the great work in which it is engaged, then you should support the Democratic candidates for the Senate and for the Lower House of Congress; for in that way alone, at this time, can you express your approval of it, or give any aid and encouragement to it."

Governor Beckham is right. The importance of this campaign from a National standpoint cannot be overestimated. It involves the election of two Democratic United States Senators whose votes are needed in the Senate to support the policies of President Wilson. The election of two Republican Senators would be calamitous to the party in the State, and a rebuke to the President at this crucial period when he needs the hearty support of every loyal patriotic Democrat in this nation.

President Wilson is showing a personal interest in the election of Governor Beckham and Senator Camden. He has urged Senator James and the Democratic members of Congress to do everything in their power to bring about a Democratic victory in Kentucky this fall, and he has likewise appealed to every friend he has in Kentucky. If President Wilson could make an address in this State, it would prove of great value to the party in this contest, but official duties detain him in Washington and grave National and International questions engage his whole attention. Later in the campaign, he will make a written personal appeal to the voters of Kentucky, to stand by the Democratic nominees.

The opening at Somerset drew an immense crowd and the speeches of Governor Beckham, Senator James and Governor McCreary were received with much favor. It was an auspicious beginning for one of the shortest and what promises to be one of the most successful campaigns ever conducted by the Democrats in this State.

PRESERVE OLD SONG

Star-Spangled Banner Is Sacred,
Says G. A. R. Head.

Washington Gardner, Commander-in-Chief, Makes Plea That It Be Kept
Honored by All as American National Anthem.

Detroit.—A plea for the perpetuation of "The Star-Spangled Banner" as the American anthem, without alloy,
was made fervently by Washington Gardner, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, in his address before the forty-eighth national encampment of that organization here.

He urged the old soldiers to join in a movement to pay special honor to this song, and to discountenance the practice of playing it in medley with such "flippant and comparatively meaningless ditties" as "Yankee Doodle" and "When Johnnie Comes Marching Home."

He said there was something inspiring in an audience rising and standing uncovered at the majestic strains of the national anthem, but it was "incongruous, bordering even on the ludicrous," for the band to strike up some other national air in medley with this, and to observe the audience resume sitting in "an irregular, half-ashamed manner." It were better not to rise at all when the national hymn is played in medley, he said.

A recommendation that permanent headquarters for the G. A. R. be established in Washington was another point of his address. Chicago and Philadelphia had been proposed, but he preferred the national capital, and thought that if possible the necessary space should be secured in a government building where the officers could keep closely in touch with matters before congress which affected the Grand army.

A standing committee of seven persons, with the commander-in-chief and adjutant general of the G. A. R. as ex-officio members, he also recommended principally for the purpose of taking charge of all legislation which had the indorsement of the order. He said that such a committee would "concentrate responsibility, reduce expense and give promise of better results."

The present membership, in good standing, was reported as 171,335.
During the year the roll was curtailed
by the death of 11,187 old soldiers, but notwithstanding this large figure,
it is 151 less than died during the preceding year.

SEEK AID FOR JOBLESS GIRLS

Woman's Department of National Civic Federation Ask Employers
to Co-Operate.

New York.—An employment bureau has been established by the vacation committee of the women's department of the National Civic federation to aid those of its 16,000 depositors who have lost their employment because of the European war. One thousand letters were sent out from the bureau to manufacturers and merchants, asking them to file applications with the committee when in need of young woman employees.

The vacation committee, which numbers among its members many well known women, accepts deposits from working girls, which are used as vacation funds. Of the 16,000 girls that make their club headquarters at the committee rooms, many hundreds are out of work, it was announced, and hundreds more are on half pay or are working only a part of the time.

DOG'S COFFIN IS GOLD LINED

Body Lies in State in Master's Home
—Died of Overeating—Hundreds Attend the Funeral.

Bellevue, Ky.—Nick is buried and the cold clods that cover his silver and gold-lined coffin are much less cold by banks of flowers laid by loving hands. The burial took place after the body had lain in state in his master's home. Nick was an English bulldog, a member of the family of Mrs. M. A. Winn. No dog hereabouts ever received a more elaborate burial than Nick. He was the favorite dog of Bellevue and hundreds of people went to the Winn house as the dog's carcass lay in state. Such a funeral only befitted the life led by Nick, who died by overindulgence in luxurious food.

SHINE UP THAT OLD MEDAL

This Thief Wins It—He Stole a Five Foot Bathtub From a Plumber.

Chicago.—John Galvin, a plumber, of 4520 South State street, has asked the police to search for thieves who stole a five foot bathtub from in front of his plumbing shop, at 5508 South State street. The bathtub was on the sidewalk when Galvin went to supper,
and when he returned it was gone.

Loving Cup for German Sire.
Brooklyn, N. Y.—A. D. Vellbrock of Brooklyn left his native home in Germany 40 years ago to make his home in America, and his five sons have planned a reunion at which a loving cup will be presented to the aged German.

MOTHER! THE CHILD IS COS- TIVE, BILIOUS

Look, Mother! If Tongue is Coated Give "California Syrup
of Figs."

No matter what ills your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out of sorts,
half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold,
give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours
all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping,
and have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless fruit laxative, because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups.
Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs;" then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

ON THE JOB.

That identifies more than elegant English could do the attitude of President Wilson towards his duty both as President of the United States and the leader of his political household. It is his belief that he can best provoke the confidence of the American people by steadfastly doing the work assigned to him, leaving to others the task of meeting in public debate partisan misrepresentation and hostile criticism.

This is new doctrine to be poured into the ears of the present generation, though it is a doctrine that was held high in esteem among the statesmen of an earlier period. But is it not sound doctrine? As the President says, the country knows as well as it can be taught what it is that has been accomplished during the past seventeen months of uninterrupted service. The President is content with it and shrinks naturally from boasting about it. He prefers to give his whole thought and attention to matters that are taking shape rapidly, as for example the rebuilding of the merchant marine, and the further conservation and economic use of our diversified natural resources.
And finally, as he values a man's service by the character of it, he believes the country will value the service of an administration by the character and spirit of its performance. This, too, is uncommon doctrine in this day and generation when the spectacle is offered of individuals of ambition employing the time assigned them for other work, with an adequate compensation, to further advance their own personal interests. If a man is known by the company he keeps, a public servant
may be fairly measured by his devotion to his job.

NOTICE OF CONTEST

BOURBON COUNTY, KENTUCKY:

IN THE MATTER OF THE ELECTION HELD IN BOURBON COUNTY, KENTUCKY, ON MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 28TH, 1914, ON THE PETITION OF WM. MYALL AND OTHERS, TO TAKE THE SENSE OF THE LEGAL VOTERS OF BOURBON COUNTY, ON THE QUESTION WHETHER OR NOT SPIRITUOUS, VINOUS OR MALT LIQUORS SHALL BE SOLD, BARTERED OR LOANED THEREIN, THIS LAW AND PROHIBITION TO APPLY TO DRUGGISTS, ALSO.

GROUNDS OF CONTEST.

Now come T. F. Brannon, James Porter, Robert Spencer, Oscar Peddicord, Ed. Slattery, John Johnson, James Cummins, Claude Ratliff, C. N. Peddicord, Jas. Connelly, Harry Saloshin, Malachi Flanagan, Elmer Nichols, Frank Sullivan, James Curtis, and say that they are each and all citizens and legal voters in the City of Paris, Bourbon County, Kentucky, and citizens and legal voters in Bourbon County, Kentucky; and they further say that the election held in Bourbon County, Kentucky, on Monday, September 28, 1914, on the petition of Wm. Myall and others, to take the sense of the legal voters of Bourbon County on the question whether or not spirituous, vinous or malt liquors shall be sold, bartered or loaned in Bourbon County, this law and prohibition to apply to druggists also, was illegal, invalid, and null and void, for the following reasons, to-wit:

1. Because the petition of said Wm. Myall and others, upon whose request said election was called, was not signed by a number of legal voters in each precinct in Bourbon County, equal to twenty-five per cent. of the votes cast therein, at the last preceding general election.

2. Because said petition was not signed by a number of legal voters equal to twenty-five per cent. of the votes cast in Bourbon County at the last preceding general election.

3. Because the Judge of the Bourbon County Court, after the filing of the petition and before entering an order of election thereon did not hear proof that said petition was signed by a number of legal voters equal to twenty-five per cent. of the votes cast in Bourbon County at the last preceding general election.

4. Because said petitioners whose names were signed to said petition did not offer any proof that said petition was signed by a number of legal voters in said County equal to twenty-five per cent. of the votes cast therein at the last preceding general election.

5. Because the Judge of the Bourbon County Court, at the next regular term thereof, after receiving said petition, did not make an order on his order book, directing an election to be held in said county on some date named in said petition, no earlier than sixty days after said application was lodged with the Judge of said Court, directing the Sheriff, or any other officer of said County, appointed to hold said election, to open a poll at each and all voting places in said County, on said date, for the purpose of taking the sense of the legal voters of said County, who were qualified to vote at elections for County officers, upon the proposition whether or not spirituous, vinous or malt liquor shall be sold, bartered or loaned therein, or whether or not any prohibition law in force in said County, or in any city, town, precinct or district thereof, by virtue of any general or special act or acts shall become inoperative.

6. Because the order which was spread upon the order book of the County Court, purporting to call said election on September 28th, 1914, was not signed by the Judge of the Bourbon County Court and is therefore null and void, and of no effect.

7. Because in said purported order of election, the County Judge of Bourbon County did not, at the same time, fix a date for the registration for those people entitled to vote thereat, whose names had not been recorded on the registration book of that year; and did not require same to be published in like manner as the time and place of said election of vote are required to be published.

8. Because upon a petition filed by T. F. Brannon and others, which petition contained a number of legal voters in each precinct of the City of Paris, equal to twenty-five per cent. of the votes cast therein at the last preceding general election, the Judge of the Bourbon County Court had ordered an election to be held in each precinct of the City of Paris on September 26th, 1914, to take the sense of the legal voters of each of said precincts of the City of Paris upon the question whether or not spirituous, vinous or malt liquors shall be sold, bartered or loaned in the City of Paris, this law and prohibition to apply to druggists also, and had fixed September 18th, 1914, as a day for the registration of those persons entitled to vote thereat whose names had not been recorded on the registration books of that year; and because the said Judge of the Bourbon County Court in the order for a special registration day for the election, which was held on September 28th, 1914, did not fix a special registration day for that election.

9. Because the County Board of Election Commissioners in appointing the election officers to conduct said registration and said election did not divide said officers equally as required by law, between those favoring said proposition and those opposing said proposition.

10. Because at the special registration which was held in the City of Paris on September 18th, 1914, legal voters in said City of Paris, who were entitled to register on said date, and who were entitled to vote at said election, and who applied for permission to register in the precinct in which they were legally entitled to register and vote, were not permitted to register and thereby were prevented from voting.

11. Because the Bourbon County Board of Election Commissioners in the appointment of officers to hold said registration and said election on September 28, 1914, on September 18, wrongfully and unlawfully and with purpose and intent to favor those opposed to said proposition, appointed clerks of registration and election from the list of names furnished by those opposed to said proposition in five out of the six precincts in the City of Paris, and thereby wrongfully and unlawfully and unjustly gave to those opposed to said proposition, control of registration in said five precincts out of six in the City of Paris; and because of these facts heretofore set out, said election was not free and equal.

12. Because in Clintonville Precinct No. 2, in Bourbon County, and in North Middletown Precinct No. 2, in Bourbon County, and in Millersburg Precinct No. 1, and in various other precincts in Bourbon County in which the officers of election taken from the list of names furnished by those favoring said proposition did not appear at the polls at six o'clock on the morning of the election, to-wit, on September 28th, 1914, the other officers and the voters present opposed to said proposition wrongfully and unlawfully, refused and failed to wait thirty minutes as required by law, for the appearance of the regularly appointed officers, and wrongfully and unlawfully selected other officers from bystanders present to take the place of such officers that were regularly appointed; and wrongfully and unlawfully selected other officers from among the bystanders who favored said proposition.

13. Because the Sheriff of Bourbon County did not advertise in a weekly and daily paper published in the County, said notice of election for at least two weeks before said election and in fact failed to advertise said election for two weeks by posting a written or printed hand bill at some conspicuous place in each precinct of said County as required by law; and because said Sheriff only advertised said election in the Bourbon News in the issue beginning August 14th, and ending with the issue of August 21st, said newspaper being published in Bourbon County, and because said election was not approved for two consecutive weeks just preceding the election as contemplated by the Statutes of Kentucky.

14. Because in each and all of the voting precincts in said County, the election officers refused to allow divers and sundry persons, and in fact, numerous persons to vote upon the proposition of whether or not spirituous, vinous or malt liquors shall be sold, bartered or loaned in said County, who were legally qualified to vote at said election, and permitted divers persons to vote at said election who were not entitled to vote and for reasons herein before set out, said election was not free and equal and was therefore null and void.

15. Because the act of the Legislature known as "An Act to Amend Chapter 81, Article 1, entitled 'Liquors Intoxicating' of Kentucky Statutes, Carroll's Edition, 1909, by repealing Sections 2554 and 2557 and enacting other provisions in lieu thereof," Chapter 13 of the Session Acts of 1914, approved March 13, 1914, violates Section 51 of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Kentucky in that it does not provide for the taking of the sense of the legal voters upon the question of whether or not spirituous, vinous or malt liquors shall be sold, bartered or loaned in unit, city, town, district or precinct smaller than a county.

16. Because the act of the Legislature "An act to amend Chapter 81, Article 1, entitled 'Liquors Intoxicating' of Kentucky Statutes, Carroll's Edition, 1909, by repealing Sections 2554 and 2557 and enacting other provisions in lieu thereof," Chapter 13 of the Session Acts of 1914, approved March 13, 1914, violates Section 51 of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, in that it relates to more than one subject, and because the subject of said act is not expressed in the title of said act.

17. Because the act of the Legislature "An act to amend Chapter 81, Article 1, entitled 'Liquors Intoxicating' of Kentucky Statutes, Carroll's Edition, 1909, by repealing Sections 2554 and 2557 and enacting other provisions in lieu thereof," Chapter 13 of the Session Acts of 1914, approved March 13, 1914, violates Section 13 of the Bill of Rights of the State of Kentucky in that it provides for the taking of a man's property and the application of same to public use without just compensation being previously made to him.

18. Because said act "An act to amend Chapter 81, Article 1, entitled 'Liquors Intoxicating' of Kentucky Statutes, Carroll's Edition, 1909, by repealing Sections 2554 and 2557 and enacting other provisions in lieu thereof," Chapter 13, of the Session Acts of 1914, approved March 13, 1914, is violative of the Constitution of the United States and particularly of the fourteenth amendment thereto, Sub Section 1, in that it provides the means or depriving a person of his liberty and property without due process of law, and that it denies to the contestants herein within its jurisdiction, the equal protection of the law.

Now come T. F. Brannon, James Porter, Robert Spencer, Oscar Peddicord, Ed. Slattery, John Johnson,

James Cummins, Claude Ratliff, C. N. Peddicord, James Connelly, Harry Saloshin, Malachi Flanagan, Elmer Nichols, Frank Sullivan and James Curtis and amend their grounds of contest filed herein on October 3rd, 1914, and especially the first paragraph thereof, and for amendment say that they are and each of them is a citizen and resident of the United States of America; that they and each of them is engaged in the business of selling spirituous, vinous and malt liquors by retail, in Paris, Bourbon County, Kentucky, by license, and are authorized to conduct said business in said territory by virtue of license granted to each of them by the United States of America, Commonwealth of Kentucky and the City of Paris; and that the license of them and each of them were on September 28th, 1914, and now are in full force and effect.

2. They come and amend the 18th ground of contest heretofore filed, and for amendment thereto they say that they are citizens and residents of the United States of America and the Commonwealth of Kentucky, of the County of Bourbon, and of the City of Paris; and they say that they are engaged in the business of retailing spirituous, vinous and malt liquors in the City of Paris, Bourbon County, Kentucky, under license duly granted to them by the United States of America, the State of Kentucky, and the City of Paris, and that said licenses were in full force and effect on September 28th, 1914, and are still in full force and effect; and they say that said licenses will not expire until after sixty days from the date of the entry of the certificate of the Canvassing Board of Bourbon County in the Order Book of the County Court, unless the entry thereof is suspended.

They say that said Act is illegal and unconstitutional and void, because it deprives these contestants of their property without due process of law, and abridges the privileges and immunities of these contestants as citizens of the United States, and denies to these contestants, who are persons within the jurisdiction of the United States, and of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, the equal protection of the laws in violation of said Section 1 of Article 14 of the Amendments to the Constitution of the United States, and of sections 1, 5 and 6 of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

3. They further say, and as the 19th ground of contest, that heretofore, to-wit: On the day of April, 1907, at an election duly ordered and held in the City of Paris, Bourbon County, Kentucky, the said City of Paris took advantage of the Statutes in such cases made and provided, and by reason of said election segregated itself and constituted itself a unit upon said proposition; and at said election a majority of the legal votes cast in said territory was cast in favor of the sale, barter or loan of spirituous, vinous and malt liquors, and that afterwards, to-wit: On September 26, 1914, at an election held in the City of Paris, to take the sense of the legal voters on said proposition of whether spirituous, vinous or malt liquors should be sold, bartered or loaned in said City, a majority of the legal votes cast was in favor of the sale of liquor within said City; and the contestants say that the said City of Paris, by reason of the matters hereinbefore set out is and was a separate unit, and under the Statutes made and provided in such cases it is and was entitled to vote separately from the County of Bourbon on the sale, barter or loan of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, and to determine for itself such question independently of said County; and that said City of Paris has so voted and has voted and decided in favor of such sale; and that by reason of the matters herein set out, the election held in the County of Bourbon on the 28th day of September, 1914, is null, void and of no effect as far as the City of Paris is concerned.
